As I stated before, TOM'S agenda and his facts are fluid depending upon his mood swings & temperament. This provides Gober with an amazing ability to see then usage not only provable fraud, but also to deep "anned 4 years of his own peptitibe, declared intelle 8 systemsit, actions take mith collaborators like myself who GOBER enlisted specifically to device a campaign strategy which grew to include hedge find managers, lobbysts and his own attorney who had been promised to allied tobbysis, and investors with the utilimate endgame being a financial optitical strategy with all three arm operating either independently or together in an effort to avoid financial debacles in lieu of something more constructive with an activist-investor approach in mind.

Tom Gober Intentionally sabotaged all this at the finish line out of shear malicious intent to chear me out of the same. "watershife moment" he same is attorners with AND for no other reason that doll him that he could not path-andie to investors like David Bronn's then blow up in them when the didn't divine Tom's Intentions. Even worner still, TOM refused to be held accountable for securities compliance efficies with a compliance efficies which a compliance efficies upon the compliance efficies with a compliance efficies upon the c compainer emics with a compainance omner who wanted to speak to nim gentry.

If Tom had to go to the extreme of courtight hings to be files about all gill of the aforementioned when I was forced to go a cound him to Dee, then Tom is fully aware of his mallicious intent it. Routablent behavior, he has ZRBO delations in that area. The only code for moderatads is that of accounting ethics, not human deceney as he never lets one hand see what the other hand is doing and subsequently maintain different stories for each. This makes him highly suspect in terms of serving as a viable, credible on the witness stand in ways that are much more serious than his past drinking emblance.

Keep in mind that Dee is the same attorney from whom Tom withheld the Brighthouse Financial case whist beseeching me to rustle him up another legal candidate who he managed to piss off which I only found out the following war from is unonency, that at the internor, that at the time Tom gave me a false story about having to first. ""e" David by hearing him say that he had found value in their original meeting before "inviting him in with Cyrus". That's putting a bruised ego before selling fraud then wrupping it in a complete lie!

AGAIN, Tom doesn't let one hand know what the other is doing and still wouldn't present Righthouse Francial to Dex Milks even after I went around. Tom to Dex and let have know that TOM was shopping at all around Wall Stress and Co., yet Tom supposedly tells Dex that it syst therey as with the property of the state of the wifees possible of the state of the state

If Yom can betray his own life's mission and the policyholders as well as lie to his own, go-to attorney Dee Miles in terms of a cornucopia of cases in what he described as the "mothernest of corporate fraud" that made Alá Glook like "the poor man's sham reinsurance" than why the hell we anyone take him seriously on a witness stand? Does Dee want us to believe that he wasn't disappointed or a half Tom saw him well off threat 20 was all frowns 12 West on the standard or or is beguillible enough to believe Tom's stonewalling of viable cases. I see it as deprawed indifference on the part of Tom's legal network as they unconscionably enable his immoral acts which have co-mingled with his business and consequently with theirs.

no automess and consequency with chem.

Simply put, even if Ton's facts were valid it still would not matter because as one local Richmond attorney stated, "Tom Gober decemit fit any industry's standard of ethics." In other words, TON's facts have to be thrown out of court quicker hall Bill Cools's agolitacine for a lique, riches; if Cusmon had to leave office, why doesn't Gober? Tom's facts are like a broken chain of evidence. There's no third-party verification for this man. There's only no esolution other than revoking his license or sending his ass to jail for an R. Kelly, white-collar, crime ring.

BOTTOM LINE: Tom's proprietary information has to be owned by a major investor, just like Teflon is owned by DuPont and the inventor forgotten. I also think it's more dignified at his age to be in a mentor-collaborative role rather than holed-up with his hick wife #3.

Let's See Et. "You'll be have up to find anyone who co-mingles their CFE tome business with that of a deportment she has been assistant part of the more according to a deportment of the horse short be hard been assistant part operating the properties of the proper

I've decided NOT to include Tom in this email. Anyway, my op-ed is complete and pushing the limits in terms of length. Who wants to see it? Also, I'll be adding more pages to the website. It should look something like this.

LTE 🗸 🔒

"COMING SOON: ... GE Life-Genworth... Security Benefit... GM Pensions.... the Einhorn Collaborative: A Social Justice Scam OR Sublimation...... Cheryl Strauss Einhorn vs Lori Loughlin: The Dumbing of the lay League Only Money Can Buy".

Speaking of GE Life & Security Benefit, I've contacted their respective legal counsel regarding th Gober Problem. Dee Milles knew I'd be spreading the word two years ago and unless Joe Whatley doesn't check his email, then he knew also. But that's not my main point.

MAIN POINT:. Tom Gober's facts need to be owned by an investor which he'll grow to like. Standing alone Tom's facts are too soiled Attorneys, don't fool yourselves into thinking that Tom respects or fears ANT of you—not Dovid Boles, not Dee Miles. That false sense of security is forevers shatered by Tom's TOTAL misteratumed of the legal network who pay his bills! I've set on fire a lifetime of Tom's body of work—of which his attorneys helped to materialize—yet Tom just whigh sits dick out and pisses all over this fire then dumps it back on his attorneys to worry about, if they even worn.

TOM doesn't think the attorneys are all-powerful, he just feels that he calls the shots. Like he said, "you push me one way, I go the other" even when it's exactly what this freak has begged you to produce for enarly 4 years. Tom's career is everything to him, yet he's not frayed by any of this. That should profoundly disturb all of you AND serve as a valwabue po all that the attorneys are not only on shaky ground, but that from has already substituted cases you should have all been writing on at this time.

gound, out that ourina aready suboleged uses you know here an over working on a time time. Like I said before, Tom doesn't let one hand see what the other is doing as he'll show Brighthouse Financial to David Finhorn or to Cyrus Mehrt, but leaves Dee Milles—who was ready to talk to David Einhorn about It—is trabully in the dealt from also talks out of both sides of his mouth about his attempts, One minute he complains about making them inch while the system never changes even the it's form sabotaging viable change. The next minute, Tom seeks to validate himself through the attorneys. This dichotomy is only bridged when the dysfunctional tall wags the dog.

BOTTOM LINE: I'm simply doing to all the attorneys right now what Tom is too passive-aggressive to do. He resents & envies his legal network for resping the fruits of his labor. If this weren't true, then Tom would be doing everything possible to appease his legal employers with respect to the case: he's both fought for AND been paid for by them. Likewise, withholding serves no one but his martyr comple-

Tom is NOT hiding in shame right now. He relishes "getting something for nothing" via my website. Like Charlie Sheen, "I'm winningi" He knows he's being a sadistic asshole who's done me a grave injustice much like an insurance policy wherein they pocket your premiums, but deny your benefits.

Tom overlooks the obvious fact that he could have gotten everything he ever wanted for nothing OR as I like to call it "allowing things work for him and around him" ALL while getting paid and his reputation left untarnished!...but I guess this is the definition of "bat shit crazy". People like TOM don't

This is where Tom's old friend "Blue" needs to step-up as Tom & Blue share some kind of defining, "encounter with God" moment which apparently took place in a Nashville(?) Motel years ago in which Solari Tom-temporally immobilized by our maker—divined God's grand design for him as being to go forth and defend the policyholders! ... OR it was just one held of a weekend bender?.... Nonetheless, God's Messenger of Insurer Faud (which Tom did) has gone astray.

Meanwhile, Dave Einhorn walks around town acting like his shit doesn't stink and feeling as invincible as Tom. David, like Tom, doesn't see the severity of his actions as he blows off the fact that Brighthouse; Financial marked $6.5 &1 in liabilities as assetts. David needs to 'shove it' in terms of calling himself the Great God of Empathy being that a NASDAQ producer read about David snickering at the $6.5 ban declared David an 'arracists' with o's only out for himself'. Why does nobody take it seriously that 'm a witness to this shit! That's the very definition of corruption!
