Tom Gober's Deceived & Duplicitous Legal Network:

1. BEASLEY ALLEN...enough said!
2. Edward Stone Law: Ed and Christy Crow were out of town together on a Gober case, unless they're having an affair..
3. Whatley & Kallas: BCBS of Alabama
4. Wagstaff & Cartmell:
5. Boles Holmes White LLC:
6. Barnes & Radney:
7. Morris Haynes:
8. Boise Schiller Flexner LLP: BCBS of Alabama.
9. Mehri & Skalet: see amnesiac Judge Clemon
10. Paulson & Nace, PLLC: Dickman vs Banner Life. Dee Miles used Tom Gober on the stand after my warning letter in February of 2020.
11. Cohen & Milstein: Security Benefits ??
12. Geoff MacDonald & Associates: Dickman vs Banner life
13. Frohman Law: Tom Gobers most likely replacement.
14. Berman Tobacco: Bright House Financial emails
15. Crueger Dickinson LLC: GE Capital
16. Methvin, Terrell, Yancey, Stephens & Miller P.C.: Security Benefit Ogles vs SBLIC Guggenheim
17. Jinks, Crow & Dickson, P.C., Attorneys at Law: Blue Cross Blue Shield of Alabama.... And what about Greg Lindberg?
18. Hagens Berman: a Guggenheim heritage case.

Top 10 List of More Recent Cases (Active/Closed/Flailing)

1. Greg Lindberg Case – RE-OPENED !!!!! AS I STATED BEFORE, "Even if Tom's facts were true, they need to be thrown out of court faster than Bill Cosby's application for a liquor's license!". The sexist, boys club of Joseph T. Wells of the ACFE keeps Tom Gober in business.
2. The People vs BCBS of Tom storefront hustle was concomitant to this case.. The largest antitrust case in the history of the planet.
3. Ogles vs Security Benefit. Well this was going on, Tom Gober was pulling the rug out from everybody and lying to Dee Miles about being promised to lobbyists and investors because everything is smoking mirrors to Tom Gober. There's a thin line between fact and fiction and how he gets it to mold to his circumstances
4. GUGGENHEIM PARTNERS?
5. GE Life /Genworth angle (which I was supposed to be in for a class action suit, thanks Chuck for returning my call! You tell the policyholder to call with any on your website. Fuck the policyholder!)
6. Dickman vs Banner Life (Dee Miles used Tom following my warning and deceitfully used and unfit witness on the stand)
7. Scottish Re (Tom's findings were shown to a former reinsurance lobbyist which sold them on the campaign he later sabotaged after promising Dee Miles was "in" and "Dee will do what I want to do".)
8. GM Pensions (David Einhorn, being like Tom Gober wanting to do one thing and saying the other, didn't seem interested in this...Plus, Charles Crueger of Crueger Dickinson maybe working on that but knowingly with an unfit lead witness).
9. Bighthouse .. Enough said!
10. Apollo Management.... Enough said!

Tom - just tried giving you a call. We are going to work up the GE case, so please send me a retainer letter and we can send you a retainer ($6K) for you to help us get some work done.

Tyler and I will talk and get back to you on what direction to give you to get this going.

Thanks, and give a call if you have any questions. Chuck

FROM: Paul J. McNulty
Deputy Attorney General
SUBJECT: Principles of Federal Prosecution of Business Organizations

The Department experienced unprecedented success in prosecuting corporate fraud during the last four years. We have aggressively rooted out corruption in financial markets and corporate board rooms across the country. Federal prosecutors should be justifiably proud that the information used by our nation's financial markets is more reliable, our retirement plans are more secure, and the investing public is better protected as a result of our efforts. The most significant result of this enforcement initiative is that corporations increasingly recognize the need for self-policing, self-reporting, and cooperation with law enforcement. Through their self-regulatory efforts, fraud inherently is being prevented, sparing shareholders from the financial harm accompanying corporate corruption. The Department must continue to encourage these efforts.

WHAT SEC SAYS LINDBERG DID

The nature of Lindberg's alleged SEC violations outlined in the complaint involve a complex series of transactions in the businessman's financial network.

By 2017, Lindberg had complete ownership of four N.C. insurance companies — "which gave him control over hundreds of millions of dollars in premiums from their policyholders," the lawsuit claims.

The companies are identified in the complaint as Southland National Insurance Corp., Bankers Life Insurance Co., Southland National Reinsurance Corp., and Colorado Bankers Life Insurance Co.

I am meeting with the Boies firm one week from today... Pottinger and Schwartz...but haven't heard yet from DB. I wanted to make sure he knows where this is headed so I sent him the email below just a few minutes ago.

So Tom - Sabotages his LAWYERS w/ Lobbyists !! David, would like you to consider the possibility that the for-profit life insurance industry...which includes international conglomerates like MetLife, Prudential, John Hancock, TransAmerica, etc...is on the edge of a cataclysmic event. As much as I have learned in the last 31 years, I topped that in just the last 75 hours of digging. I have a very good track record and have developed a tight cadre of honest and very capable experts that agree with me. The one question that none of us can answer is this:

Are the regulators cognizant of the depth to which the industry has sunk and, not wanting the entire industry to collapse "on their watch," wearing willful blinders until they can slip out the back?

David...I have yet to find anyone other than me with a really deep knowledge of accounting fraud in the insurance industry AND a willingness to push for someone to act to protect the consumers. No one is

Thanks to all of you for bringing me on board. I have been blessed with an outstanding group of clients over the years. The first half of my career, they were brilliant prosecutors...AUSAs in MS, AL, VA and PA. The 2nd half of my career I've worked with great civil litigators...many of them you probably know.

For those of you who do not know why I shifted from criminal to civil, you only need to read one paragraph from the infamous "McNulty Memo" (below) to understand. Paul McNulty was my boss as the US Atty for EDVA during the criminal investigation of ROA/Gen Re/AIG. McNulty praised the merits of our case repeatedly during the investigations phase...but as we were literally headed to the GJ seeking indictments on BOTH ROA and Gen Re execs, a sudden and unexplained shift occurred which resulted in McNulty being promoted to Deputy Attorney General for AG Alberto Gonzalez and our iron-clad criminal case evaporating. The single paragraph below marked the end of meaningful and substantial white-collar corporate criminal cases in the U.S. CFE

Human nature is flawed and if corporate narcissists are not told "NO" or punished for wrongdoing, playground bullies become CEOs of cash-rich industries where the picking is easy. Today, that is the for-profit life insurance industry. The reason I share all of this with you is that, as best I can tell, you are policyholders' last hope for justice.

Genworth Financial Inc. said it will not hold an annual shareholder meeting on its previously scheduled date of May 17.

The company put off the meeting because it is still working to close its sale to China Oceanwide Holdings Group Co. Ltd.
